

“How Do I Know That My 4-H Club is Successful?”

Using the ARCS approach

Presented by Indiana 4-H Evaluation Committee:
Arin Weidner, Brandon Rice, & Teri Hornberger

Grab the Play Doh and Let's Get Started

A

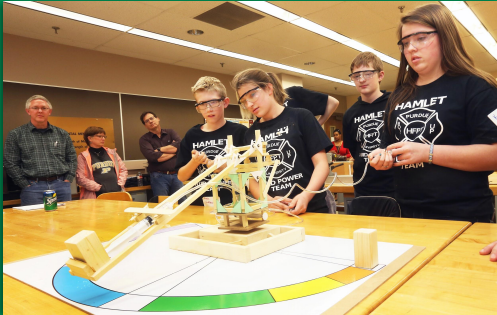

With the person sitting next to you...

Teach them how to make a snowman

Was your learner engaged in the lesson?

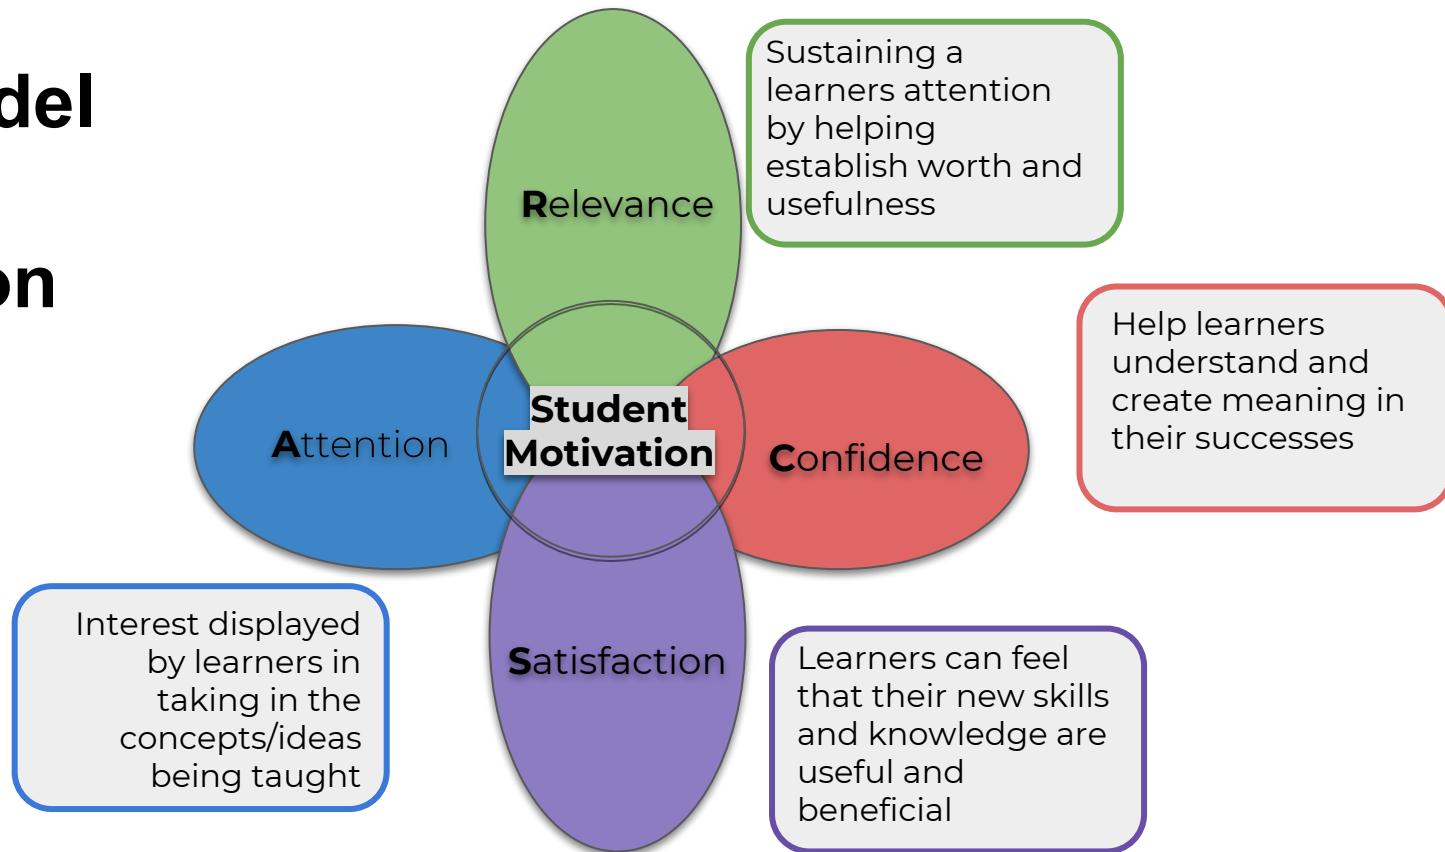

R

How do you know?

ARCS Model of Motivation

The A-R-C-S of ARCS

R

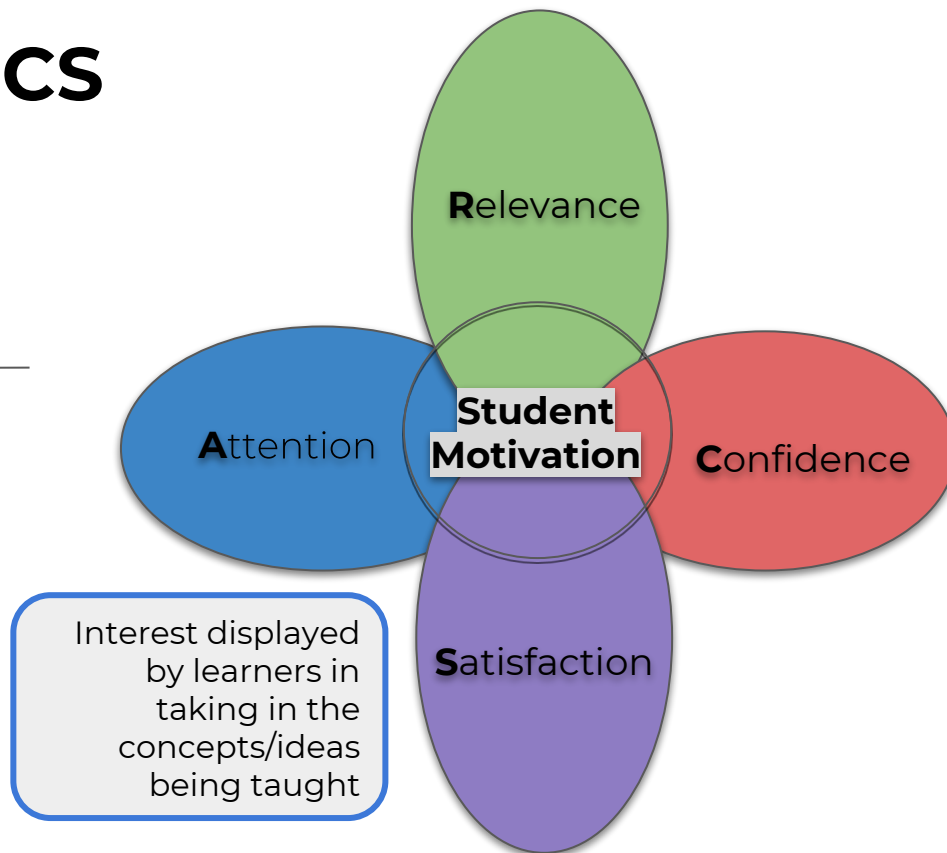

Attention

Activities:

- Use of images/videos
- Use of humor
- Problem Solving
- Games
- Songs/Music
- Competition

Observations:

- Eye contact
- Asking questions
- Attentive
- Participation
- Laughter

Let's Construct the RCS

c/s

Outline of Activity: 20 minutes

- Break down one of the steps of ARCS
- Identify activities that supports your group's step
- Identify how that would be in your 4-H club/program (Observations)
- Document your activities and observations on the provided paper
- Be prepared to report to the group!

Attention
Activities:	Observations:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Use of images/videos- Use of humor- Problem Solving- Games- Songs/Music- Competition	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Eye contact- Asking questions- Attentive- Participation- Laughter

The A-R-C-S of ARCS

c/s

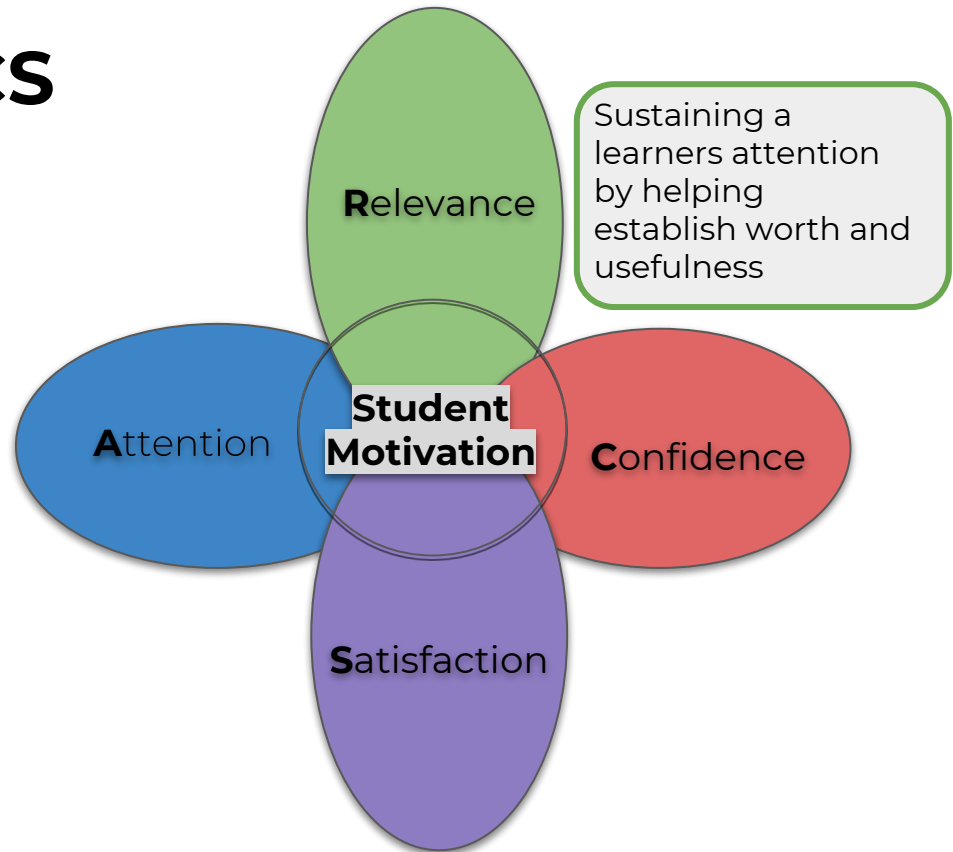

Relevance

Activities:

-

Observations:

-

The A-R-C-S of ARCS

c/s

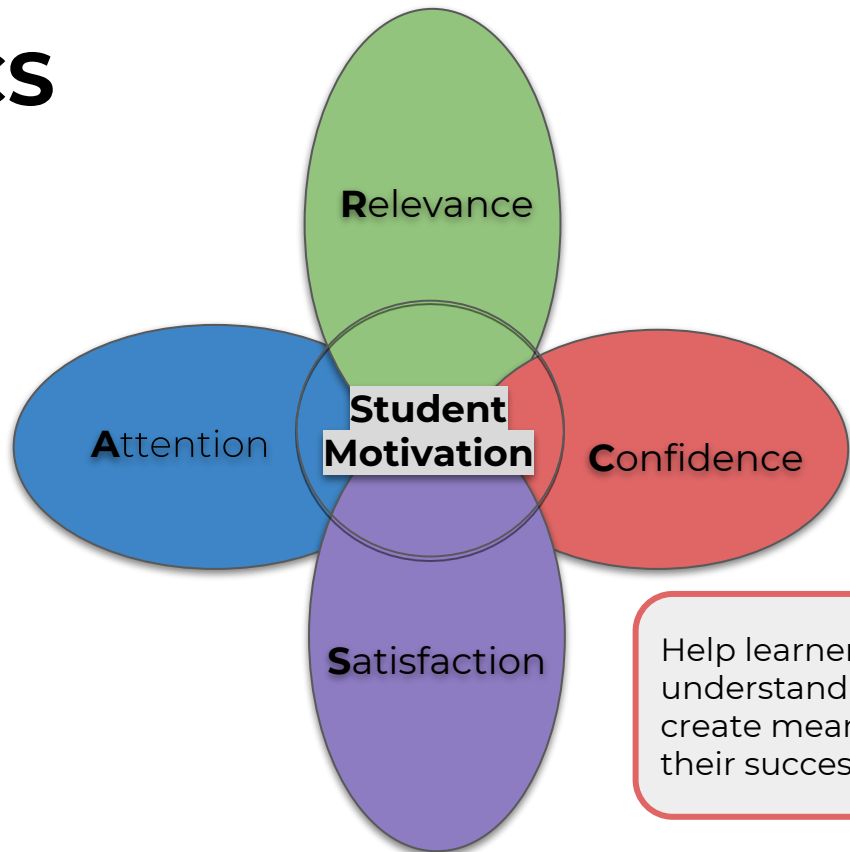

Confidence

Activities:

-

Observations:

-

Help learners understand and create meaning in their successes

The A-R-C-S of ARCS

c/s

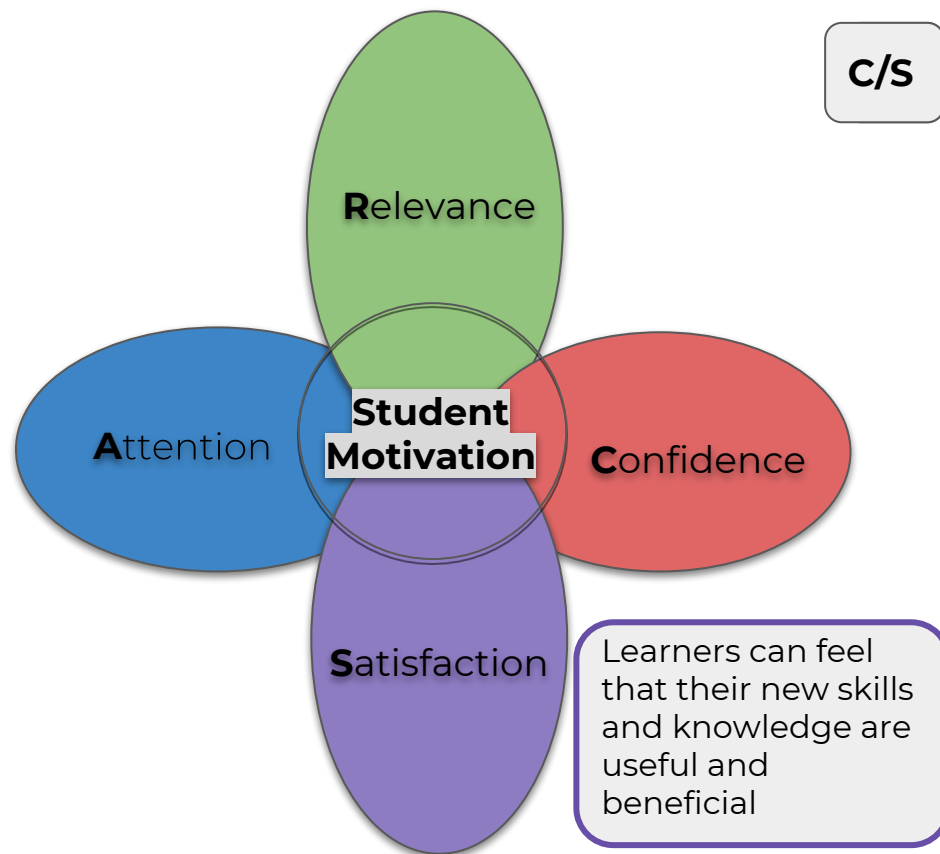

Satisfaction

Activities:

-

Observations:

-

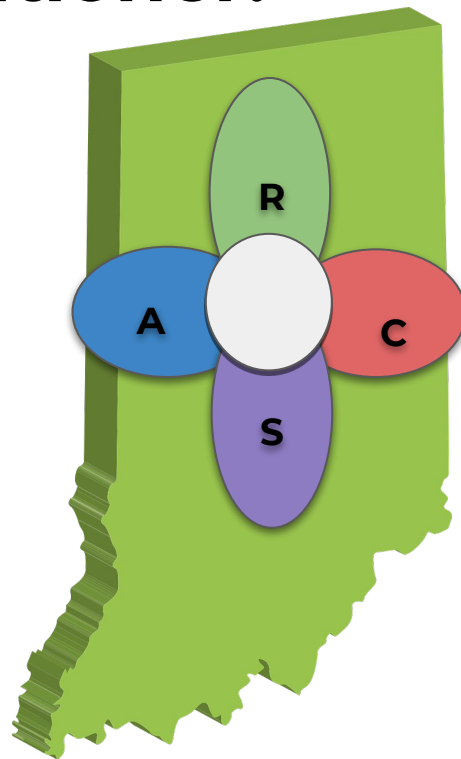

Return Home an ARCS Practitioner!

S

Tips for Returning Home

- Practice before the program
 - Use your templates to outline your lesson
- Invite another volunteer/educator to observe your club/lesson using the checklist
- Share with your county educator
 - Offer to host what you learned today as a volunteer development opportunity

Thank you!

S

Contact Information

- Arin Weidner
(arin@purdue.edu)
- Brandon Rice
(rice48@purdue.edu)

