

A CLEAN SWEEP: BROOMCORN FOR ORGANIC TRANSITION

HOSTED BY BUNDLE STICKS FARM IN LANESVILLE, IN

Join the Indiana Organic Network for a field day that will explore a novel crop for organic transition - broom corn. Hosted by the farmers and crafters at Bundle Sticks Farm, you will get to know this unique, high-value variety of Sorghum bicolor and learn how it is suited to preparing the land for organic production while increasing the domestic supply of broom-making materials. Rain date 8/17.
