What is this?

If you are interested in increasing the availability of local food in your community, come and share your thoughts. Learn about local food initiatives and successes, hear from farmers and others involved in the food system, and discuss specific topics with fellow community members.

Who should attend?

Growers:
farmers, food producers,
Markets/Buyers:
grocers, restaurants, chefs,
food service directors,
Distributors:
businesses, entrepreneurs,
wholesalers,
Community:
leaders, food consumers,
health organizations!

Why?

This summit will connect local food and agricultural economic development with area businesses, not-for-profits, and residents to explore opportunities to work together, create jobs, and expand the local economy.
